CHEERS TO A WONDERFUL TIME!

From the Antigua & Barbuda Tourism Authority

Welcome to the warm and beautiful islands of Antigua and Barbuda! The destination abounds with Caribbean charm, rich history, culture, picturesque settings and 365 fabulous pink and white sand beaches.

Antigua is home to Nelson's Dockyard, a fascinating UNESCO World Heritage Site, and the only working Georgian naval dockyard in the world. The historic dockyard bustles with activity as the museum, bakeries, restaurants and gift shops swing into operation each day. On the other hand, our 'little sister' island of Barbuda is home to spectacular beaches and the largest colony of magnificent frigate birds in the Western Hemisphere.

Our islands are definitely worth exploring and we invite you to journey through colourful St. John's city to the seaside village of Old Road, meander through fruit-laden Fig Tree drive, and delight in the nautical scene at English Harbour. Your journey can continue over to the dramatic twin sugar mills of Betty's Hope, and the crashing waves at the natural attraction, Devil's Bridge.

If adventure is what you are looking for, take a hike through our nature reserve or enjoy a challenging canopy zip-line tour in our lush tropical rainforest! Book some extreme action with an eco-tour speed boat adventure or an island safari. For a slower pace, witness a game of warri with the islanders, join a herbal garden tour or take a city walking tour led by a local guide.

Visitors to the destination will discover the vibrant culture of our islands and the friendliness of the people who welcome you to partake in all we have to offer. There is always some activity you can safely be part of, and which provides you with the perfect insight into our music, art, culture, cuisine and sports.

Join in on the fun, and you will soon realize, that you came as a visitor but will leave as a friend! Cheers to a wonderful and safe time in Antigua and Barbuda!

Sincerely,

COLIN C. JAMES

ANTIGUA & BARBUDA

Our 365 beaches are just the beginning...

The twin island nation of Antigua & Barbuda lies right in the heart of the Caribbean. Visitors return again and again to take advantage of our idyllic climate, easygoing way of life and famous white sand beaches.

Yet as you'll soon discover, we've got a lot more to offer than sun-kissed sands and crystal clear waters. We've got world-class sailing, duty-free shopping and fascinating history, not to mention award-winning hotels that suit all tastes and budgets.

You can choose to stay in a cosy inn where everyone knows your name or a world-class hideaway where the famous stay incognito. Our all-inclusives suit those who love the idea of no added extras, while our family-friendly villas and apartments are for anyone after more independence. Of course wherever you stay, the varied delights of our nation await. Beach bars and restaurants offer everything from award-winning rums to fresh-from-the-reef lobster. There's plenty to see and do with activities galore both on land and at sea. You can also explore beauty spots like Fig Tree Drive, sail off to island escapes like Prickly Pear, and wander around historical sites like Betty's Hope plantation.

Yet the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Nelson's Dockyard is our most prized possession, this 18th century enclave both a bustling yachting centre and a fascinating monument to our past. You can stroll among its restored Georgian buildings or pop up to the ruined fortress of Shirley Heights and enjoy the panoramic views with a rum punch in hand.

Our capital St. John's is a vibrant city well worth a visit, its two waterfront shopping areas offering easy access to cruise ship visitors. Heritage Quay is a modern boulevard of duty-free shops, while neighbouring Redcliffe Quay is a charming contrast with its restored 18th century buildings forming a cosy complex of boutiques and restaurants. And if you'd like to dip into our past, the museum in Long Street and twin-towered cathedral both offer areas of tranquillity amidst the hustle and bustle of town.

Antigua's reputation as a sailing mecca remains unsurpassed throughout the Caribbean. Over the years, Jolly Harbour has developed into a major yachting marina complete with a shopping centre and residential village. But it's English Harbour that long ago put Antigua on the nautical map, and it retains its traditional atmosphere to this day. World-class sailing events like Antigua Sailing Week and RORC Caribbean 600 are annual events.

Last but not least is Antigua's 'no problem' attitude towards life. Everyone quickly adapts to the unhurried pace of 'the islands', and an atmosphere of warmth and good humour prevails. English is our official language, although we locals often speak a dialect that can be a challenge to understand!

All these attractions combine to make Antigua & Barbuda a unique Caribbean destination. We just know you'll want to come back soon...

ARRIVE ANTIGUA

Antigua & Barbuda lie about 1,400 miles from Miami, 2,100 miles from Toronto and 4,000 miles from London. Wherever you're travelling from, you can expect the warmest of welcomes at our international airports, our scenic harbours and our bustling cruise terminal...

ANTIGUA AIRPORT

Antigua's V.C. Bird International is proudly celebrating its 40th anniversary in 2025. Previously known as Coolidge International Airport, it was renamed in honour of our first Prime Minister, Sir Vere Cornwall Bird Senior. Conveniently located just four miles from the capital St. John's, the airport is certainly one of the most advanced in the Caribbean. It was rebuilt in 2015 and offers a variety of dining and duty-free opportunities, as well as self-service check-in kiosks, speedy processing times, and an updated Executive Lounge with an outdoor deck overlooking Jumby Bay Island. The runway stretches 3,040 metres and not only welcomes the largest commercial aircraft, but also private jets serviced by a prominent FBO (Fixed Base Operator).

BARBUDA AIRPORT

Barbuda's new international airport is a major step forward in transforming the island into a luxury destination in its own right. Located just 10 minutes from Codrington, the US$14 million Barbuda International Airport (BIA) boasts an extended 1,860-metre runway that also allows for regular night landings thanks to its full LED lighting system. The expanded parking apron can host multiple private jets and twin-engine airliners, while the dedicated FBO terminal will cater to high-end visitors seeking Barbuda's famous eco experiences and pink sand beaches.

AIRLINES

Antigua continues to be serviced by a large number of international airlines. Flying in from North America are American Airlines, Delta, JetBlue Airlines, United Airlines, Air Canada, Sunwing and WestJet. Those with direct air links from Europe include British Airways, and Virgin Atlantic from London's Heathrow and Gatwick, and Condor from Frankfurt, Germany. Serving the larger regional territories are Air Antilles, Caribbean Airlines, LIAT, and interCaribbean Airways, while SVG Air, WinAir, FlyMontserrat, Tradewinds Air, Sunrise Airways and SKYhigh Aviation offer regional flights. Chartered inter-island airport transfers are also available through Antigua-based CalvinAir Helicopters.

TAXI FARES

Antigua's taxi fares are fixed, not metered. A one-way fare (for 1 to 2 persons in a shared taxi bus) from the airport to nearby St. John's is about US$15 (EC$40), while a trip to Nelson's Dockyard in the south of the island is about US$35 (EC$95).

DRIVE ON THE LEFT

Should you wish to pick up a car on arrival at the airport rather than at your hotel, car rental agencies can be found on exiting Customs. To be issued with a local licence (valid for 90 days), you'll have to present your current valid driver's licence and pay US$20 (EC$50). Driving is British-style with cars staying on the left. Take extra care at night as you'll probably encounter speed-bumps, as well as goats on the road. You may even come across other drivers forgetting to dim their headlights! It's advisable to reserve a car in advance, especially during the peak winter months and during Sailing Week in April.

LOCAL CURRENCY

Antigua's local currency is the Eastern Caribbean (EC) dollar but US dollars are widely accepted – the exchange rate of US$1 = EC$2.70 is general knowledge to all. Credit cards are also widely accepted but if you need cash, the airport has a bureau of exchange and ATMs. The Eastern Caribbean Amalgamated Bank lies just outside the entrance. Banks in St. John's include ECAB, ACB, CUB, First Caribbean and Global Bank.

Executive Lounge - outside deck

CRUISE SHIPS

The world's biggest and best cruise ships regularly visit Antigua. Up to 5 mega-ships can dock in St. John's at the same time, a tender service also available. Access to the city is easy as the port's exit gates lie about 500 feet (150 meters) from the ships' gangways. The bars, restaurants, duty-free shops and local boutiques of Heritage Quay and Redcliffe Quay are just a brief stroll away on flat terrain, the Boardwalk and King's casinos also waiting. Taxis are readily available if you're not booked on an organised tour and prefer to explore our historical and scenic delights at your own pace.

PRIVATE YACHTS

Many visitors arrive here by yacht, the four main ports of entry being English Harbour, Jolly Harbour, Heritage Quay, and St. John's Deep Water Harbour. You should complete the eSeaClear pre-arrival notification online, but if you don't have computer access, forms and computer terminals are available at the ports of entry. You must fly a yellow Q (quarantine flag), and everyone but the master must stay on board until the entry procedures have been completed. A cruising permit is required to cruise our waters, and those of you leaving your vessel in Antigua must have a valid airline ticket to another country. We look forward to welcoming you!

Why not take advantage of our VIP Concierge Service at the airport?

Available on arrival and departure, it includes a full escort through any airport-related formalities, as well as assistance with luggage and baggage.

WHAT'S HAPPENING?

From art shows and poetry readings to gin tastings and cooking demonstrations, Antigua has plenty to keep you entertained in 2025...

RESTAURANT WEEK

This 14-day gastronomic event is all about tickling the tastebuds. Think everything from tasting menus, cooking demonstrations and pool parties to roti master classes, farm-to-table experiences and even cocktail parties where top mixologists conjure up everything from coconut mojitos to classic rum punches. Yet Restaurant Week also showcases the diversity of the Antiguan culinary experience with eclectic menus featuring everything from tapas and dim sum to pepperpot and fungee. Fine dining restaurants, curry houses, snack bars, pizzerias, beach bars and food stalls all participate, and you can even 'Eat Like a Local' and sample authentic island dishes like saltfish and fungi. 4 to 18 May 2025.

DOCKYARD 300th ANNIVERSARY

Everyone loves Nelson's Dockyard and little wonder. This charming coastal sanctuary in English Harbour is not just a symbol of Antigua's cultural heritage but also of its naval past. It played a crucial role in the defence of the British Empire during the 18th and 19th centuries and remains the focus of our thriving maritime industry 300 years later. And, of course, the world's only working Georgian dockyard continues to provide a safe and natural harbour for international yachts of all shapes and sizes. Yet this UNESCO World Heritage Site is also a magnet for landlubbers, its restored stone buildings housing everything from inns and bars to boutiques and even a museum. September 2025 is just another milestone in its continually evolving history.

ARISE, SIR ROB

Hotelier Rob Barrett has been knighted for his services to Antigua tourism. The founder of Elite Island Resorts and a titan of our hospitality sector for four decades, it was Sir Rob who turned Antiguan getaways like Galley Bay, Hammock Cove and St. James's Club into iconic all-inclusive resorts. This national honour is a fitting tribute to a man who started off as a beach boy in the 1960s but who quickly rose through the ranks to become a night auditor and general manager before founding his iconic hotel company. Sir Rob's philanthropic endeavours include Wishing Well, a charity he founded in 2012 to support community needs from medical help to youth education.

Yet this colourful celebration is also an immersive creative experience. You can go on a self-guided studio tour and watch the artists while they paint, or you can even pick up your own brushes and participate in and interactive painting session. 26 November to 2 December 2025.

ANTIGUA CLASSIC YACHT REGATTA

16 to 21 APRIL, 2025

Each year an impressive collection of classic yachts and passionate sailors gather in Antigua from all over the world to take part in 'Classics' and to enjoy racing in the ideal trade wind sailing conditions of the Caribbean.

This unique, world-class event attracts a variety of competitors from the mighty tall ships, vintage yachts, magnificent schooners and traditional island craft. Some of the yachts date back to the early 1900s, whereas others are modern-day reproductions classed as 'Spirit of Tradition'.

The Regatta traditionally starts with the Concours d'Elégance when the condition and maintenance of the yachts are judged along with the single-handed race. The full fleet then enjoys four days of racing with courses designed to take the best advantage of wind, sea, scenery and skill. Spectators can view the action from high points along the south coast like Fort Charlotte, Shirley Heights and Block House.

After racing each day, the yachts return to dock in the historic 18th century UNESCO World Heritage Site of Nelson's Dockyard to take part in the shoreside events. After the last race on the Sunday, the yachts pass through the dockyard for the 'Parade of Classics' which is a wonderful opportunity to see the boats in all their glory and crews close up.

The regatta closes on Monday 21st April with gig rowing races, cream teas on the lawn of the Admiral's Inn and the prize-giving ceremony.

The magical combination of serious racing, laid-back Antiguan hospitality, plenty of rum, sunshine and camaraderie in a friendly relaxed atmosphere makes the Antigua Classics a favourite in the yachting calendar. In 2025 we will be celebrating the 300-year anniversary of Nelson's Dockyard which promises to be a spectacular event.

ROYAL OCEAN RACING CLUB

Celebrating its centenary in 2025, the London and Cowes-based RORC enjoys a worldwide reputation for the management of international yacht racing.

Its Antigua programme has long ranked high on the bucket list of serious sailors, and while the 4-day Nelson's Cup Series is a relatively recent inshore event, the Caribbean 600 has long been a firm favourite on the offshore yachting calendar. Everyone agrees that the quality of the racing combined with the perfect conditions will ensure both races continue to attract professional and amateur sailors from around the globe. And thanks to the Falmouth-based Antigua Yacht Club and its army of local volunteers, all the competing yachtsmen are assured of warm welcomes on arrival and cold beers on completion of their races!

RORC Nelson's Cup Series • 18-21 February, 2025
A stand-alone event for the first time, the third edition of the Nelson's Cup Series features two days of multiple inshore racing on the 18th and 19th of February, followed by a fun and relaxing Lay Day.

The concluding highlight on the 21st of February is the Antigua 360° race when the yachts must complete a 50 nautical-mile circumvention of the island.

RORC Caribbean 600: 24-28 February, 2025
Starting and finishing in Antigua, the 600-mile course uses eleven Eastern Caribbean islands as turning marks. With such a long course, the race is an interesting challenge for both navigators and crew, and the finishing times can vary by days. Now in its 16th year, the event regularly attracts over 500 sailors from more than 25 different countries. It certainly merits its reputation as one of the world's classic offshore races.

There are also the social activities and daily prize givings. These culminate in the main prize giving ceremonies on the 21st and 28th of February at the Antigua Yacht Club, long considered to be the beating heart of our sailing community.

SPORTS FISHING TOURNAMENTS

June, September & November, 2025

Antigua's waters teem with fish and there's nothing like landing 'the big one' when it really matters. Our three annual fishing tournaments regularly attract over 25 teams, the enthusiastic anglers always leaving early and greeted on their return by spectators eager to view and maybe even sample their catch...

This season starts with the '57th Antigua & Barbuda Sports Fishing Tournament' between 5 and 8 June. On the Friday, the boat that catches the largest billfish wins a big cash prize, while on the Saturday and Sunday, the hard-fought competition turns to tuna, wahoo and kingfish. Club records include a 176lb yellowfin tuna.

Another opportunity to enjoy fresh fish shortly after it returns to dry land is 'The Francis Nunes Jr. Memorial Sports Fishing Tournament & Seafood Festival'. Set for Saturday, 27 September, this youth-orientated event honours the tournament's past chairman, and you can test your luck on the water, take part in a 'Cook-Off' or enjoy the local dishes on offer at Nelson's Dockyard. And rounding it all off on Saturday, 8 November is the non-nonsense wahoo contest 'The Best in the West Fishing Tournament' hosted by Jolly Harbour Marina.

THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST ROW

Starts December and ends 3,000 miles later!

This trans-Atlantic ocean rowing race begins in La Gomera in the Canary Islands, Spain and ends between 30 and 90 days later in English Harbour, Antigua. With between 40 and 50 courageous teams rowing 24 hours a day (two hours on, two hours off), until they reach dry land roughly 3,000 nautical miles later. The competitors face 40-foot waves, tropical storms, sleep deprivation, weight loss and sweltering heat as well as the considerable challenges of working in a restricted space and a turbulent natural environment.

Participants hail from around the World and all walks of life. What they do have in common is a sense of adventure and a desire to achieve something incredible. Each person raises money for a charity of their choice.

Antiguans embrace this inspiring event and give each team a fantastic and warm welcome when they finally arrive in Nelsons Dockyard.

In 2015 Team Wadadli became the first Antiguan team to participate, breaking the record for the world's oldest crew to row across any ocean. In 2017 Team Antigua proudly finished second and in 2019 Team Antigua Island Girls rowed home to a spectacular welcome. Team Antigua Pairs, Travis Weste and Jojo Nunes were Antigua's first duo in the 2020 challenge.

Race organisers Atlantic Campaigns also host a race the World's Toughest Row – Pacific, from Monterey, California to Hanalei Bay, Kaua'i – 2,800 miles of technical ocean racing.

NESTING TURTLES JUNE TO OCTOBER

You may be lucky to spot a turtle during the nesting season between June and October. They usually nest on one of our offshore islands, but they can be seen on the mainland too. Sights can include anything from hatching baby turtles to witnessing a mother laying her eggs. Do not disturb them, of course. The Environmental Awareness Group (EAG) is a voluntary organisation that patrols the beaches collecting interesting data. Did you know a warmer incubation temperature makes the turtle female, for example? Or that 'Teeny M' is the name of the monitored resident turtle of the National Park waters?

The fruit will be on display for you to taste and buy, and you can also discover how the 'king' and 'queen' fruits are grown. The grill and mixology competitions determine who makes the best use of pineapples and mangoes in their products. Hosted by the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Barbuda Affairs.

MOODS OF PAN

28 - 30 November, 2025

Enjoy the unique sounds of pan at this festival hosted by Gemonites Steel Orchestra. Steelbands are traditionally made up of old pieces of metal like irons, tyre rims and steel pipes. Yet Caribbean steel pans have evolved into highly technical instruments, honed out of steel drums, sunken and burned over hot fires, and then chromed and turned.

This festival at the Dean William Lake Cultural Centre gives individuals, especially the young, the opportunity to showcase their talent in performances demonstrating all genres of music. Classical, gospel, reggae, jazz and calypso are all covered. A key component is the 'Twenty Five A-Side' competition which allows competitors to portray a creative and often comedic presentation. Musical storylines are brought to life to evoke laughter and excitement as the crowd responds. Several regional and international steel orchestras enter the competition hoping to win the coveted title.

INSPIRING HOPE ONE PROJECT AT A TIME

For more than a decade, the Sandals Foundation – the philanthropic arm – has supported the islands that we call home. Through support from its network of valued donors, industry partners, team members, local stakeholders and volunteers, the Sandals Foundation has impacted the lives of over one million people across the Caribbean through a myriad of programmes and projects. One hundred percent of donations go directly to support programs across the region.

Community From providing free dental, medical and eye-care services to supporting marginalised women and giving them the tools and support needed to succeed, to fostering today's youth through sports, the community-based initiatives of the Sandals Foundation are far-reaching.

Environment Over the next ten years the Foundation is placing a greater emphasis on expanding awareness and funding to support the beautiful, yet vulnerable, Caribbean eco-system.

From elimination of single-use plastic straws, stirrers, and Styrofoam on its resorts, to management of marine sanctuaries and coral nurseries, conservation of turtles and sustainable protection of trees and local wildlife, the Sandals Foundation is committed to protecting Mother Earth.

Education The Sandals Foundation supports local schools across the region through the donation of much needed supplies and technology, upgrading facilities, outfitting libraries (in partnership with Hands Across the Sea in Antigua), supports teacher training, extends scholarships to deserving students and provides opportunities for guests to interact with local students through the power of reading and its weekly Reading Road Trip excursion for visiting guests.

CRICKET THE NATIONAL SPORT

From our beaches to our fields, Antigua is also a cricketing paradise. As you exit V.C. Bird International Airport and glance to your left, there's a fair chance you'll witness an intense game taking place at the Coolidge Cricket Ground. This picturesque and intimate stadium is home to our governing body, Cricket West Indies.

Or perhaps you'll head further inland to the Sir Vivian Richards Cricket Stadium and be lucky enough to enjoy an historic clash between West Indies and England, a match sure to bring back fond memories on both sides! Neither is it uncommon to drive through our streets and spot local boys and girls engaging in a fun but fierce game of street cricket. This is where dreams are hatched, and hope takes flight.

Yet Antigua's deep-rooted love for cricket isn't merely about the sport; it's an intrinsic part of our cultural identity. Every boundary hit and every wicket taken evokes emotions ranging from passion to nostalgia, echoing the sentiments of our people. It's not just a game here; it's a way of life.

Our island paradise has also produced some of the greatest cricketers to ever play the game including national heroes Sir Vivian Richards, Sir Curtly Ambrose, Sir Andy Roberts and now budding stars like Alzarri Joseph and Rahkeem Cornwall, among others.

If you're visiting Antigua, immersing yourself in our cricket is a must. Between 26 January and 13 April this year, the action switches from the international to the regional with Antigua hosting matches for the West Indies Academy Team and the Leeward Islands Hurricanes. You'll not only witness world-class sport but also experience the passion, history and spirit of our twin island nation. We look forward to seeing you cheer us on!

RUN IN PARADISE

25 May, 2025

The last Sunday in May is when an increasing number of Antiguans, not to mention visitors from all over the world, swap their beachwear for running gear. Now in its eighth year, 'Run in Paradise' has become such a runaway success that the 2024 event broke all previous attendance records. Runners flew in from all over the Caribbean, as well as from as far afield as Finland, Columbia, the USA and the UK.

The 2025 gathering will feature the usual Half Marathon (13 miles), the 10K (6 miles), as well as the 5K (3 miles) walk/run race. All start in the cool of the pre-dawn and, apart from some slight elevations, follow a clearly marked course that is basically flat. The event is also organised to meet all international standards with water stations every mile and the emergency services in attendance. As always, the races will culminate in medals and refreshments at beautiful Fort James Beach where the runners can take a well-deserved swim.

Online registrations will open the first week of December, 2024 and close 11 May, 2025. Early online registration is recommended.

ANTIGUA CARNIVAL

Photos: Wayne Mariette

Often described as 'the Caribbean's greatest summer festival', this event showcases all aspects of carnival including pageantry, mas and steel pan music. We do hope you'll join in all the fun between 25 July and 5 August, 2025.

This annual celebration of emancipation is now a two-week summer festival. It takes place in the capital city of St. John's, as well as at Carnival City in the Antigua Recreation Ground. The festival climaxes on Emancipation Day, starting with (4am) J'ouvert Morning when people take to the streets to dance to the local jam bands, steel bands and iron bands often dressed in colourful and exotic outfits. This is the true meaning of freedom – Emancipation!

The great carnivals of the world are judged primarily on their music and mas. Carnival Monday and Tuesday always fall on the first Monday and Tuesday in August. On these two days the carnival troupes descend on the streets of St. John's adorned in their colourful costumes and dancing to the pumping soca rhythms and pulsating music of popular DJs.

Carnival mas costumes depict colourful and magical themes often with national or regional significance. Their beading, feathers and jewels represent months of work in the various mas camps where the costumes are handmade. Mas makers often work into the early hours to produce hundreds of costumes in the hope of winning the coveted title of 'Band of the Year'.

Other events in the line-up include a fiercely competitive Calypso competition where masters of the art compete against each other with songs of social commentary. The high-energy 'Soca Monarch' competition draws quite a crowd. Artists are judged on various criteria and since crowd participation carries significant weight, the audience is encouraged to join in the fun.

The 'Carnival Queen Show' is always eagerly anticipated. To win this coveted title, young ladies are judged on their poise, performing talent and interview skills. 'Teen Splash' is a highly-competitive talent competition for teens. Carnival City is bursting with youngsters on this night.

No Carnival festival would be complete without a 'Panorama' competition. The rivalry that exists between the various steel orchestras fuels their passion to practise musical renditions for months in advance of the competition. This hard work and dedication is evident on 'Panorama Night' when the steel orchestras grace the stage at Carnival City with high-energy performances often punctuated with dramatic antics. The audience is always captivated.

Carnival ends with 'Last Lap' on Carnival Tuesday where the jam bands wind their way through the streets of St. John's pumping out the most popular songs of the carnival season. This truly is the perfect time to experience the culture and music of our twin-island nation.

STAY ANTIGUA

From our charming inns to our five-star getaways

Antigua's got everything from world-class resorts with all the modern amenities to traditional inns with their origins way back in the 18th century. Then there are the family-friendly apartments for those who like to do their own thing and the all-inclusives for those who much prefer everything to be done for them...

Authenticity is what it's all about in Antigua. Few of our properties are taller than a palm tree, many have been designed to reflect their tropical setting, and most overlook one of our famous white sand beaches. Yet international standards can be expected in everything from our bars and restaurants to our spas and kids' clubs.

You can choose a family-friendly resort with activities galore or an adult-only retreat where the most you'll have to do is apply your own sunscreen. We've got hotels with gourmet restaurants, private cinemas, infinity-edge pools, carefully-curated wine cellars and the kind of spas that win awards. But if all you're after is a charming inn, some local fare and a 10-year-old rum served by a friendly barman, we can do that too.

Which part of Antigua you stay in will also have an impact upon your visit. Our properties are sprinkled all around our shores, and although a 45-minute drive is pretty much all it takes to get from one side of the island to the other, you'll be surprised at how different each coastline is, both in terms of scenery and atmosphere.

Do you choose to stay in bustling Dickenson Bay in the north where popular bars and restaurants overlook one of the Caribbean's finest beaches? Do you go for English Harbour in the south with its historic vibe, cosmopolitan clientele and wall-to-wall yachts? What about Jolly Harbour on the west coast where the ivory-white beaches come with blood-red sunsets? Or do you run away to one of our secret hideaways? We've got a famous one tucked away on its own island, and we've got quite a few others that are so off-the-beaten-track they may as well be.

Of course, our sister island of Barbuda is the ultimate tropical escape. Here you get to camp out beneath the stars or live it up at a luxury beach hotel on the edge of the Caribbean's longest beach. Just imagine, seventeen miles of pristine pink sands pretty much all to yourselves...

Getting married in Antigua is a breeze – an island breeze that is! We keep the legal formalities so simple that your marriage licence can be issued on the same day you apply.

Your hardest decision will be where to hold your ceremony. You'll certainly be spoilt for choice. Beneath a rustic gazebo on a palm-fringed beach? On the palm-studded deck of an infinity-edge swimming pool? At the end of a breeze-cooled jetty as the sun goes down? Or even in the fragrant gardens of one of our luxury hotels with the island's history all around you?

Wherever you choose, all your special moments will be captured by one of our specialist wedding photographers. You can even book a 'Trash the Dress' photoshoot for right after the ceremony or on a subsequent day. What fun to roll around in the surf or stroll through our tropical rainforest wearing your bridal dress for the very last time!

Your professional wedding planner will be on hand to ensure the day runs smoothly, of course. They'll assist with everything from the location and legal formalities to the cake and champagne.

Treats you might consider include videos, steel bands and romantic wedding breakfasts overlooking the Caribbean Sea. Or how about having bougainvillea petals sprinkled on your kingsize bed? And just to make sure you look (and feel) your best on Your special day, everything from seaweed scrubs to bridal make-up is available in our beauty salons and relaxing spas.

The hotels also make it as easy as possible. Their wedding packages generally include legal fees, a wedding arch, bottle of champagne, cake, bouquet of tropical flowers, boutonhole for the groom and the services of a wedding planner. Special group deals make it easy for family and friends to join you.

And let's not forget you can even get married in one of our quaint island churches provided you allow extra time and fulfill certain formalities. These include getting permission from the church and sometimes attending pre-nuptial consultations.

Honeymooners also get the VIP treatment. Think everything from room upgrades and couple's massages to champagne dinners on the sands. Married life is sure to get off to such a wonderful start here that you'll want to return for your first anniversary!

EXPLORE ANTIGUA

Antigua's not all about white sand beaches and clear turquoise waters. Rent a car or hire a taxi and discover the unique attractions of our island. From national parks and historic plantations to scenic drives through rainforests, there really is something for everyone...

Photo: @ ABTA

ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL

This imposing building, visible from all over St. John's, was originally constructed in 1683, replaced in 1745 and totally rebuilt of stone in 1843 after an earthquake. The interior is completely cased in pitch-pine and there are interesting memorial stones. Restoration continues.

MUSEUM OF ANTIGUA & BARBUDA

The oldest building in St. John's, the Georgian-style stone courthouse of 1750 has been the museum's home since 1986. Today it interprets the rich history of our twin-island nation through interactive displays and installed exhibits. Discover the history of the Arawaks and Caribs, our earliest settlers. Follow the stories of the pioneers of the first towns, sugar and slavery, emancipation, and post-emancipation Antigua. In the courtyard display is 'Bessie', the 1917 Simplex WW1 Armour locomotive, the only one in the world and once used to haul sugarcane. Open Mon to Fri 8:30am to 2pm. Entry fee: EC$8.00/US$3.00. Under 12s free.

ST. JOHN'S PUBLIC MARKET

This bustling, covered market at the edge of St. John's is where to stop off for the freshest Caribbean fruit and vegetables. Upstairs are small boutique-style shops specialising in local souvenirs. The market is easily identified by the imposing sculpture of V.C. Bird, the Founder of the Nation, which lies at the intersection of all the roads leading to the market.

SUGAR MILLS

These are dotted across the landscape, mostly in ruins but some with their solid outside structures still intact. By 1705 most of Antigua was planted with sugarcane, and 170 mills were built for crushing the cane. At that time each factory could produce 55 tons of sugar a year. Nowadays, there are a few carefully-restored mills often incorporated into more modern developments. Those at Harmony Hall, Mill Reef, Galley Bay and Weatherills Hotel certainly contribute a unique feature to each property.

BETTY'S HOPE

Betty's Hope was granted to Christopher Codrington in 1674 and remained in the family for over 250 years. The ruins are located in the centre of Antigua and evoke the atmosphere of times past. Betty's Hope had a labour force trained as craftsmen. There are twin sugar mill towers and one has been restored. An Interpretation Centre guides you through the history and life of the estate. Open Mon-Fri 9am-1pm. Entrance US$2.00

SATURDAY FOOD STALLS

Every Saturday food stalls pop up along our roadsides. These may be your best opportunity to get a taste of traditional Antiguan dishes like conch water, goat water (delicious stews), blood pudding, salt fish and ducana, and charcoal-grilled chicken and ribs. The local drinks freshly made with ginger, passionfruit and coconut water are equally delicious.

FORTS OF ANTIGUA

Built by the British to guard against invasion during the 18th century, Antigua's forts are located all around our indented coastline. Fort James 'protects' St. John's Harbour, charming local restaurants like BeachLimerZ nestled at its base. Fort Barrington overlooks Deep Bay, while Fort Berkeley is at Nelson's Dockyard. If you take a walk up to these immense fortifications, some of which still have their original cannons, you'll be rewarded with spectacular views of the neighbouring islands.

PARHAM

This quaint and historic little town was Antigua's earliest British settlement. And Parham is still notable today for St. Peter's, a spectacular church once described as 'the finest church in the British West Indies'. It was built in the 1840s after the original wooden church was burnt down. It's a beautiful and unusual octagonal shape designed by a famous architect of the time, Thomas Weekes. The church indicates the long-ago importance of Parham.

DEVIL'S BRIDGE

Situated at Indian Town close to The Hammock Cove Resort & Spa, this spectacular natural bridge at the head of Indian Creek has blow-holes and spouting surf. Legend says that if you throw two eggs into the water to boil, the devil (who is said to be down there) would keep one and return the other!

SHIRLEY HEIGHTS

After visiting Nelson's Dockyard, ramble around the fortifications, barracks and powder magazines of our most famous landmark, Shirley Heights. Although as Mrs. Lanaghan once said in 1844 while visiting the area, 'Really, this marching and counter-marching beneath a tropical sun is no slight matter.' So relax with a couple of drinks at The Lookout Restaurant with its panoramic views and spectacular sunsets. Call to check for the current opening times.

DOW'S HILL INTERPRETATION CENTRE

Built among the ruins in the Nelson's Dockyard National Park, the Interpretation Centre provides an historic overview of Antigua's past. 'Reflections of the Sun', a fascinating multi-media presentation, is a 'journey through the dreamy corridors of six periods of the island's history'.

PILLARS OF HERCULES

Best viewed by boat, the aptly-named and intriguing Pillars of Hercules are natural limestone rock formations that guard the entrance to Freeman's Bay and English Harbour. Formed by the elements many millennia ago, they are also a popular snorkelling and diving site. Stingrays and trumpet fish are regular visitors to the coral reef extending far beneath the waves.

FIG TREE DRIVE

One of the best drives in Antigua, 'fig' may be the Antiguan name for banana, but this winding road is lined with all sorts of tropical fruit trees – guavas, mangoes, oranges and coconuts. It's the major road branching off the main north/south highway opposite the pink Catholic church outside Liberta. This area of rainforest is something like the Garden of Eden. Go slowly until you descend into Old Road, passing Carlisle Bay and Curtain Bluff, and getting a glimpse of the pineapple farm.

ANTIGUA'S Donkey Sanctuary & ANIMAL SHELTER

The Antigua & Barbuda Humane Society provides shelter for over 150 donkeys at its Bethesda sanctuary. Here the neglected, roaming donkeys find a safe haven and receive food, water, shelter, medical care and love. The Humane Society offers an 'Adopt a Donkey' programme which includes a photo and an adoption certificate. We really encourage you to visit Antigua's Donkey Sanctuary, and learn for yourself that there's far more to a donkey than you thought. Admission is free but donations are greatly appreciated. Help save Antigua's gentle donkeys!

NELSON'S DOCKYARD

A UNESCO World Heritage Site

Celebrating its 300th Anniversary in 2025, Nelson's Dockyard in English Harbour is our most prized possession and a must-see for any visitor. Named after Admiral Horatio Nelson, it's not just a monument to the past but also a magnet for yachting and cultural activities year-round...

As the only continuously working Georgian naval dockyard in the world, Nelson's Dockyard's modern facilities make it a haven for anything from traditional sailboats to ultra-luxurious superyachts. The lovingly-restored buildings of the National Park house charming restaurants, boutiques and inns, as well as the Dockyard Museum, a longstanding favourite with international visitors.

English Harbour was originally established to provide the British Royal Navy with a shipyard where they could keep their vessels in good repair and maintain their ascendancy in the Caribbean against other European powers. It was as far back as 1671 that the Governor of the Leeward Islands first wrote about the harbour's advantages to the Council for Foreign Plantations in London. Christopher Columbus himself never actually moored in Antigua, content to see it from a distance and naming it after the church of Santa Maria de la Antigua in Spain.

Thanks to the location and facilities of Nelson's Dockyard, Antigua was never conquered by any other European powers. Wharves, powder magazines, cisterns and storehouses were constructed, and the British ships could be careened (turned on their sides for repair) and overhauled here, safe from hurricanes. It was also the ideal port to protect the fleet in troubled times, the enclosed harbour of Freeman's Bay almost invisible from the open waters. The narrow entrance to the harbour was protected by Fort Berkeley, constructed on the peninsula above the Dockyard and completed in 1744. The great fortifications of Shirley Heights ensured the invincibility of Antigua.

They were named after General Sir Thomas Shirley who arrived on the island in 1781 as Governor. The extensive network of buildings was constructed out of local stone along with brick imported as ballast for the ships coming from England. The military complex includes an obelisk in the cemetery commemorating the officers and men of the 54th Regiment (2nd Battalion Dorsets) who died in service in the West Indies between 1840 and 1851. England's most famous naval hero, Admiral Horatio Nelson, spent his formative years in Antigua. Arriving at the age of 26 as Senior Captain and Second-in-Command of the Leeward Islands Station, he was in command of the frigate 'Boreas' and headquartered in English Harbour. By the time he left for England and greater glory in 1787, he had married a widow by the name of Frances Nesbit from Nevis.

The National Parks Authority (NPA) is active in maintaining public awareness of the park's history and heritage. Ongoing archaeological excavations often reveal relics of its rich multi-cultural, multi-ethnic past.

The latest jewel in the park's crown is Clarence House, named after Prince William Henry, the Duke of Clarence when he was in command of the 'Pegasus' in 1787. Regally set on the hillside opposite the Dockyard, this Georgian-era residence has now been restored to its former glory. Visitors can re-live the elegance of an 18th century mansion that has played host to dignitaries and royalty for 200 years. Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret, actually honeymooned here.

Nelson's Dockyard National Park offers a wealth of unique and exciting opportunities for all its visitors. You can experience its natural beauty by hiking one of its panoramic and well-maintained nature trails. You can learn about its past by watching a 15-minute multimedia presentation at the Dow's Hill Interpretation Centre, and although you're welcome to explore the Dockyard at your leisure, guided tours are also readily available and included in your entrance fee.

The Victorian-style Dockyard Museum (open daily from 9am to 5pm) is a cool and pleasant building showcasing many interesting artefacts from bygone years. It was once erroneously known as the Admiral's House, but Nelson never lived ashore while in Antigua.

The Dockyard also plays host to several special events throughout the year, including Antigua Sailing Week, Antigua Classic Yacht Regatta and RORC Caribbean 600. Charming boutiques sell everything from jewellery to resort wear, Island Secret well worth visiting for its high-quality local products and unusual gift ideas.

There are also unique restaurants in the area. The Copper & Lumber Store is an historical inn, while waterfront dining is on offer at the aptly-named Pillars restaurant in the Admiral's Inn. Boom is its sister eatery just across the bay, its views as good as its food.

Photos: Admirals Inn

If you're in the mood, create and bottle your very own Caribbean rum! A water taxi will take you across the harbour to Academy of Rum at Galleon Beach.

Of course, Shirley Heights Lookout has long been the place to be on Sunday afternoons. Perched almost 500 feet above Nelson's Dockyard with 360-degree views over Falmouth and English Harbours, this famous party venue offers the most spectacular views of the sun setting over Nelson's Dockyard.

ANTIGUA'S BEACHES

Our beaches are our claim to fame. We have a different one for every day of the year, our powdery white sands flanked by either the calm Caribbean Sea in the west or the wilder Atlantic Ocean in the east. Here we've handpicked some of the best for you...

JABBERWOCK BEACH Part of the National Park, this long stretch of white sand beach on the Atlantic coast is popular with local people taking morning and evening walks. It's also the base for windsurfing and kitesurfing.

DUTCHMAN'S BAY This secluded beach lies opposite Long Island, home of the Jumby Bay Island resort. Excellent restaurants here include the Garden Grill, Gather Steakhouse, and Cecilia's High Point Café.

LONG BAY This beautiful east coast beach is famous for its calm waters and snorkelling. It's also an ideal family venue with small restaurants. The Pineapple Beach Club overlooks the sands, and you'll find the Devil's Bridge beauty spot a short drive away.

HALF MOON BAY On our southeast coast and offering some spectacular wave action. Considered one of the world's finest beaches, its white sands stretch around a picture-postcard bay. Refreshments are available at two beach bars and restaurants.

PIGEON POINT BEACH A popular beach with tranquil waters tucked away in a sheltered cove. It's been environmentally developed into a recreational facility with camping areas, a children's playground and bathroom facilities. Nelson's Dockyard is nearby.

RENDEZVOUS BAY This pristine beach on the south coast is popular for picnics and family outings. A four-wheel drive vehicle is usually the best way to reach it.

MORRIS BAY BEACH Opposite Old Road village and one of our best kept secrets, even though it's easily accessible from the road. It's an ideal picnic area with calm seas and beautiful sands.

TURNERS BEACH A perfect beach at Johnson's Point with pristine sands and calm crystal water. The restaurants are all on the sand overlooking the Caribbean Sea.

DARKWOOD BEACH This spectacular beach will take your breath away as you round the corner of the road that runs along side it. Montserrat is often visible from the white sands.

FRYERS BEACH This off-road beach with good access lies between Darkwood and Jolly Harbour. It's popular with locals and visitors alike.

JOLLY BEACH Jolly Beach Resort overlooks this mile-long stretch of powdery white sand. Jolly Harbour Marina is nearby with a supermarket ideal for stocking up, plus bars and eateries perfect to watch the sunset.

HAWKSBILL BEACHES Hawksbill's five beaches include a nudist beach. It's the home of the popular Hawksbill by Rex Resorts hotel.

FORT JAMES The historic ruins of Fort James overlook this lovely beach near the entrance to St. John's Harbour. It's often the venue for an impromptu game of volleyball or cricket.

DICKENSON BAY Our most developed beach with bars, restaurants and watersports galore. Hotels include Sandals Grande Antigua Resort & Spa, Royalton Chic, Antigua Village, Buccaneer Beach Club and Siboney Beach Club. It's a popular meeting place, the calm turquoise waters and long crescent of powdery white sand perfect for an active day with friends. Salt Plage Beach Bar and Ana's on the Beach are waiting for when you're finally ready for that cold beer or sundowner.

If you drive clockwise from Jabberwock Beach in the north, you'll get to see all these beaches in one day...

ANTIGUA'S ISLANDS

Our offshore islands are refuges for everything from whistling ducks and frigate birds to wild boar and Hawksbill turtles...

Many of the islands lie in the North Sound, an idyllic marine park off our northeast coast. Think talcum-powder sands, crystal clear waters and a relaxed Robinson Crusoe-like vibe. The islands can only be reached by boat, of course, but the distances are short. The seas are usually calm and easily navigable by small vessels, as well as by larger yachts familiar with the coral reefs.

Most of the day-trip cruise boats tie up close to the main islands. Great Bird Island is particularly popular, although during the week you can have the place to yourselves. You may even be lucky enough to catch a glimpse of the small, harmless and endangered Antigua Racer snake found nowhere else in the world. Nearby Guiana Island has a wide sandy beach, Green Island further along the coast is worth a visit too, and day trips are readily available to Prickly Pear just off Hodges Bay.

Rabbit Island is another interesting island. It's home to breeding colonies of Caribbean brown pelicans, the only diving pelicans in the world. They raise their young in twiggy nests, clearly visible to anyone passing. Some have the good fortune to see the babies with large beaks open, growing to become awkward juveniles, eventually flying off until the next season.

At Hell's Gate Island there's an incredible limestone bridge formed by the elements over millennia. Named for the wild Atlantic seas visible through the archway, strolling across the fragile bridge isn't recommended!

Some 25-miles to the southwest is Antigua's 'third' possession, Redonda. Once a desolate expanse of rock noted for its 19th century guano-mining industry, it's now said to be one of the region's most ecologically important landscapes. Four years of work by local environmentalists have restored trees and plants, increased the number of critically endangered reptiles, and attracted even more nesting seabirds including boobies and tropicbirds. Visitors will be permitted once the rejuvenation work is completed.

Long Island just off our north shore is slightly more glamorous, of course. It's home to a large collection of luxury villas, as well as the exclusive Jumby Bay Island resort. Yet the rich and famous who vacation here are happy to share their private idyll with the Hawksbill turtles who return every year to lay their eggs.

Indeed, visitors and Antiguan alike appreciate that these pristine offshore sanctuaries must be preserved for future generations. They view the wildlife from a distance and recognise the importance of leaving no trace of themselves behind.

BARBUDA

The Codrington Lagoon National Park is a unique component of the island's ecosystem and renowned for supporting one of the world's largest colonies of frigate birds (Fregata magnificens). They flourish happily here despite being a prized tourist attraction. The male frigate birds are particularly spectacular during the mating season, their wingspan nearly 3 metres and their scarlet throat sacs blown up to the size of balloons to attract their mates. The fluffy, young chicks are clearly visible to visitors, their ever-open beaks stuffed with delicious fish by their swooping parents.

Other birds that thrive here include pelicans, tropical mockingbirds, warblers, snipes, ibis, herons, kingfishers, oystercatchers, cormorants and West Indian whistling ducks. Little wonder this bird watchers' paradise offers authorised bird watching trips.

Frigate Bird Sanctuary

Barbuda is a coral-fringed island just 62sqm in size. It rises low on the sea only 27 miles to the north of Antigua. So why not escape to this mini-paradise and take a leisurely stroll along its 17-mile stretch of beach? Here you'll discover soft pink sands, crystal turquoise waters and as much peace and quiet as you can handle...

Barbuda is easy to reach from Antigua. There are daily scheduled flights, helicopter charters and a 90-minute ferry service. International flights and private jets can also now fly into the new airport. If you prefer an organised tour, 'Tropical Adventures' will whisk you there by power catamaran 'Excellence', treating you to an alfresco lunch on board, as well as visits to two beaches and the Frigate Bird Sanctuary. For back-to-nature activities like snorkelling, beach-combing, bird watching and cave exploration, get in touch with 'Adventure Antigua'. Much to the delight of passengers, these boat trips are regularly accompanied by dolphins, and even humpback whales between February and May.

Prefer to linger in paradise a little longer? Barbuda Belle is a rustic yet ritzy boutique hotel with eight bungalows, a seafood restaurant and a spectacular beach. Or maybe you're happy with simpler lodgings like Gerald's Guest House in the capital Codrington? You can even spend a night under the stars at the Frangipani Glamping & Guest House, the accommodation ranging from 1-person pop-ups to 8-person tents. The new Barbuda Ocean Club is a spectacular private resort community at Coco Point and Palmetto Point.

Restaurants include Nobu, Timbuk One, Wanda Grill, ArtCafé and Uncle Roddy's Beach Bar and Grill. The speciality of the house tends to be fresh-from-the-reef seafood, including grilled lobster. Venison and wild boar are also available in season.

Formed from coralline limestone, Barbuda is much flatter than Antigua with a maximum altitude of 40 metres and an average elevation of 4 metres above sea level. The Codrington Lagoon National Park is a birdwatchers' paradise complete with a frigate bird sanctuary, and other wildlife that calls the island home include wild boars, red-footed tortoises and various species of sea turtle. The elusive fallow deer is emblematic on the nation's coat-of-arms.

Offshore there are as many as 73 charted shipwrecks, as well as coral reefs for snorkelling and scuba-diving in water as clear as glass. Deep-sea fishing and fly-fishing can be arranged, with foot trails, island treks and camping trips also available. Interesting natural sites include Indian Cave, Darby's Cave and the idyllic Spanish Point. If you're interested in the island's past, a trip to Highland House, the historically important ruins of the Codrington estate, is well worthwhile. You might also like to visit the Martello tower and fort on the south coast. This imposing fortress was not only used for defence but also as a vantage point from which to spot valuable shipwrecks on the outlying reefs.

So, there you have it, Barbuda has something for everyone – natural beauty, a peaceful way of life and a history that's as interesting as its wildlife. There's even a summer carnival, so chances are your once-in-a-lifetime trip will soon be followed by a second!

ACTION & ADVENTURE

From snorkelling and surfing to hiking and island-hopping

What better way to experience Antigua's natural wonders than to snorkel over our coral reefs, zoom off to our offshore islands, or hike through our tropical rainforest? Just a handful of the many activities waiting to tempt you off your sunlounger...

Antigua's 60-mile coastline is encircled by clear turquoise seas, whether that's the Atlantic Ocean in the east or the Caribbean Sea in the west. You can enjoy these pristine waters in any number of ways, most of our resorts offering non-motorised watersports such as paddleboarding and windsurfing, with instruction readily available for beginners. Adrenaline-pumping activities like jetskiing and waterskiing are on offer from our beach vendors, with the experts on Jabberwock Beach happy to instruct you in the finer points of kitesurfing.

And Antigua's got quite the flotilla of vessels at your disposal too. Catamarans offer anything from sunset and snorkelling cruises to fun day trips all the way round the island. Power boats can whisk you off to our sister island Barbuda in 90 minutes.

If you prefer a slower pace, why not kayak through the islet-studded North Sound? And if you like the idea of getting even closer to nature, you can swim with stingrays in our crystal clear, shallow waters.

Beneath the waves lies Cades Reef, this 2-mile barrier reef a 20-minute boat ride from our southwest coast. A snorkelling trip here could yield sightings of anything from puffer fish to sea turtles, our PADI scuba diving professionals happy to introduce you to a whole raft of equally amazing dive sites. Although if you prefer to catch barracuda rather than simply look at them, why not charter one of our deep-sea fishing boats?

Antigua's also got 108 square-miles of part-volcanic, part-coral land for you to explore. Our Fig Tree Drive rainforest is as lush as it gets here, a zipline canopy tour an exhilarating way to experience it.

For nature-lovers there are hikes through Wallings Nature Reserve, an opportunity to feed giant tortoises on Laviscount Island, and challenging climbs up our very own mountain. At 1,320 feet, Boggy Peak (aka Mount Obama) is as high as you can get in Antigua without actually taking off. Although if you sign up for a helicopter trip, maybe to the nearby volcano on Montserrat, that's an option as well!

Ready for action? Find all the people to help you over the next few pages...

VISIT THE MONTSERRAT VOLCANO

A visit to Montserrat will give you memories to last a lifetime. Famous for its volcanic activities, the island will present you with a landscape almost beyond imagination. Soufrière Hills volcano became active on 18 July 1995, the eruptions destroying the airport and capital city of Plymouth, as well as rendering the south uninhabitable. Much of the former capital remains partially buried under 40ft. of ash. Many Montserratians fled, but those who remained have displayed a stalwart spirit. They haven't just rebuilt elsewhere, but they also organise events such as St. Patrick's Festival in March which is fitting for a British Overseas Territory once so green it was known as 'the other Emerald Isle'. Experiencing the volcano and varied delights of Montserrat has never been easier...

LIVE ANTIGUA

Why not really make yourselves at home in Antigua? Purchasing, renting or even building a second home here is as popular as ever, and there's an increasingly wide choice of villas, apartments and real estate options to consider...

Many visitors to Antigua fall in love with the island and dream of having a second home in the sun. Yet an overseas property can also be a first-class investment opportunity with many a home rented out on either a short or long-term basis.

So whether you're buying Antiguan real estate for rental, residential, retirement or investment purposes, you'll be joining an ever-increasing band of expatriates who simply find the idea too good to resist. And, of course, many Antiguan currently living overseas also see the benefits of buying on the island. Not only do they have sunny retirements to look forward to, but their properties can also generate decent incomes for them while they are away.

The reasons behind the property boom are obvious. Antigua offers an enviable lifestyle of sun, sea and sand. The economy is driven by tourism and our 100,000 permanent residents are an interesting mix of people from all over the world and other Caribbean islands. Another added incentive for many purchasers is that Antiguan passports may be obtained through the Citizenship Investment Programme (CIP) introduced on qualified properties.

It's advisable to do some groundwork before you get here, of course. Nowadays most property buyers are internet savvy and arrive in Antigua having already narrowed down their options. They'll probably have already contacted a professional estate agent affiliated to ABRA, the Antigua Barbuda Association of Realtors.

These companies have access to a wide variety of pre-owned homes and villas and will advise you on the latest market conditions. Location is vital, of course, and will have a great impact on your own enjoyment as well as on your property's re-sale value.

If you prefer to purchase a piece of land and custom-build your own home, there are many island-based architects, builders and contractors who'll be delighted to help you with the design and construction.

These companies generally handle all building systems, but are particularly adept at concrete blocks and wood construction. Materials, windows, doors, cabinets, fixtures and furnishings are readily available on-island or can be imported specifically for your project.

WHICH LOCATION IS BEST FOR YOU?

Where you choose to live in Antigua will depend upon a variety of factors. Is having a sea view a must, or are you quite happy inland? Are you desperate for peace and quiet, or do you want to be right in the centre of all the action?

Properties in our scenic coastal areas are always highly sought after, particularly around English Harbour in the south and Jolly Harbour in the west. Both have first-class infrastructures, as well as friendly communities and a relaxing way of life.

English Harbour has long been famous for its nautical history and yachting facilities, yet it also boasts a lively social scene. At its heart lies Nelson's Dockyard where world-class sailing events are held annually. Many homes overlook English and Falmouth Harbours, as well as more secluded anchorages such as Windward, Willoughby and Turtle Bays.

The west coast is renowned for its golden sunsets, white sand beaches and views of neighbouring Montserrat. Jolly Harbour boasts hillside and beachfront homes with stunning views of the Caribbean Sea. You can even moor your boat right outside your living room, this well-equipped resort village also boasting a marina, supermarket and ATM, as well as a selection of shops, restaurants and bars, some offering regular entertainment.

And if you like the idea of a gated community, Sugar Ridge lies on a panoramic hillside nearby, its luxury homes overlooking popular west coast beaches and restaurants. Resort living is also available on Jumbay Bay Island and Verandah Estates, as well as at St. James's Club, watersports, tennis courts and swimming pools all within easy reach. You can even put your property in a rental pool and make an income from it.

If, on the other hand, you want to get away from it all, you might want to head for our undeveloped southeast coast. The properties around Brown's Bay and Nonsuch Bay offer tranquility and stunning views, while the new Moon Gate project offers particularly captivating vistas over world-famous Half Moon Bay.

Of course, you may prefer to be nearer our airport and bustling capital St. John's. Prime residential areas in the north include Paradise View, Blue Waters, Crosbies and Hodges Bay, with Cedar Valley handy for our 18-hole golf course and Dickenson Bay closer to our world-class beach and fashionable nightlife. The number of shopping malls in the north will also leave you spoilt for choice. They include Woods Centre, Village Walk, Royal Palm Place and Silver Leaf Plaza where you'll find cafés, banks, a pharmacy and medical facilities, as well as the Bel Lab laboratory for medical tests. Supermarkets selling global brands include the Epicurean, distributors such as Anjo Wholesale will supply your villa or yacht with essentials, while Townhouse Megastore, Living Spaces, and Antigua Home & Garden Centre are where to go for all your home furnishings and appliances.

FURNISHING YOUR PROPERTY

When you're ready to transform your dream house into your dream home, Antigua has a wide variety of excellent stores able to provide you with most of the furniture and soft furnishings you require. You may be thinking of importing these items, but not only are they readily available here, you also have immediate recourse to the store if anything goes wrong. The following stores lie just outside St. John's, and offer convenient parking and plenty of choice.

Antigua Home and Garden Centre prides itself on selling high-quality goods at unbeatable prices for every room in the house. Stop by their impressive showroom in Michael's Mount for everything from kitchen gadgets and bathroom essentials to wall art, potting soil and even the perfect wedding gift.

Townhouse Megastore is the island's 'superstore', and where to head for brand-name furniture, electronic equipment, tools and spare parts. Gigi's spacious emporium sells indoor and outdoor furniture, as well as decorative home accessories.

Furniture Gallery on Airport Road also displays a wide range of furniture and appliances over its two floors. For soft furnishings, you're sure to find what you're looking for at Lolita's Dream Home with branches in the Silver Leaf Plaza and on Market Street in St. John's. We should also mention The Stock Exchange and The Exchange on Friars Hill Road, and The Blue Dragonfly at North Walk Commercial Centre are second-hand stores. They are well-stocked offering household items, appliances and furniture at great prices.

But if you're in the market for something a little different or exotic, maybe an Italian ceramic or Balinese bed, head to The Gazebo on Friars Hill Road or El Caribe overlooking Perry Bay near St. John's. Both shops source their stock from around the world. Living Spaces located on Old Parham Road is a long-established family business and a one-stop shop for all your household needs. Everything from dining room furniture and flat-screen TVs to contemporary sofas and Caribbean-style pool and deck furniture is available in their extensive showroom. A delivery service is also available.

As you can see, it couldn't be easier to create your own little piece of paradise in Antigua.

WANT TO BECOME A CITIZEN?

Since introducing its Citizenship by Investment Programme (CIP) in 2013, Antigua & Barbuda has one of the leading and most sought-after global investment migration programmes in the world. And here are just some of the reasons why.

LIFESTYLE

Year-round warm weather, 365 white sand beaches and turquoise waters make Antigua & Barbuda a world-class destination, with direct flights from the UK, USA and Canada. Politically and economically stable, and with a low crime rate, this twin-island country benefits from a fixed exchange rate with the US dollar (1 US$ = 2.7 EC$). English is the official language.

EXCELLENT FOR FAMILIES

CIP is a flexible programme specifically created to give lifetime citizenship to family members and children.

ATTRACTIVE TAXATION BENEFITS

There are no taxes levied on worldwide income, and neither is there any inheritance/gift tax, capital gains tax, or tax on investment returns.

DIRECT ROUTE TO CITIZENSHIP

Applicants can become citizens within 90–120 days. In addition, families including spouse, dependent children up to the age of 30, children of dependent children, parents and grandparents age 55 years and over may qualify for citizenship through one simultaneous application.

Island Living Investment Services Ltd. (ILIS) is a leading government representative and service provider with an extensive business network including licensed agents authorised to process citizenship applications. They also provide real estate and investment facilitation services.

FOUR DIFFERENT CIP INVESTMENT OPTIONS:

National Development Fund

A one-time contribution of US$230,000 for a single person or a family of up to four persons. The processing fee is US$30,000. US$230,000 for a family of five persons or more, with a processing fee of US$10,000 each above 5 members. The NDF is a non-profit foundation supporting public/private partnerships and specific governmental projects.

Real Estate Investment

Applicants must make a minimum investment of US$300,000 in a CIP pre-approved real estate development for a period of 5 years.

Business Investment

An individual can make an investment of at least US$1,500,000 in an approved business or make a joint business investment where each investor applicant contributes a minimum of US$400,000 each, totalling a minimum of US$5,000,000 to the joint investment.

The University of the West Indies Fund (UWI)

This option is a mechanism for financing UWI's fourth landed campus. Applicants will be required to make an investment of US$260,000 (processing fees included) for a family of six or more. Participation in the option will entitle one family member to a one year, tuition only, scholarship at the University of the West Indies.

Please contact Island Living Investment Services Ltd. (ILIS) for all the latest CIP information. www.ilis.ag Email: info@ilis.ag

CRUISE TOURISM

Antigua & Barbuda continues to shine as a premier cruise destination. Our twin-island nation is a must-see port of call for the world's biggest and best liners. After all, we are located right in the heart of the Caribbean Sea...

Cruise tourism is one of the most dynamic sectors of the leisure industry with state-of-the-art vessels offering all the latest facilities, activities and experiences. The Antigua & Barbuda Government certainly recognises the importance of cruising to our economy. In collaboration with Antigua Cruise Port, they've not only expanded our cruise infrastructure to meet the increasing demand, but they've also strengthened our relationships with the cruise lines themselves.

All these efforts are certainly paying dividends. 2024 proved itself to be another record-breaking year for Antigua, not just in cruise passenger arrivals but also in the number of cruise ships visiting our shores. The arrival of the Virgin Valiant Lady brought a particular wave of excitement to the island, prestigious liners such as these not only enhancing our cruise tourism profile but also contributing significantly to the success of local businesses.

Homeporting proved to be another big boost to Antigua's economy. Last year ships like MS Arvia from P&O Cruises and Royal Clipper from Star Clippers used St. John's as their base, these Caribbean itineraries proving so successful that we anticipate even more vessels choosing us as their homeport. Especially as the ambitious Phase 2 of the Heritage Quay development will add even more entertainment, dining and upscale shopping options to the bustling St. John's waterfront.

Antigua's tour operators certainly have no problem keeping pace with these developments. These dynamic local companies offer an ever-growing number of adventurous activities, unique excursions and historic tours designed to suit every taste and age group. And, of course, all of us very much hope that a cruise ship visit of just one day will lead to a much longer stay in our twin-island nation.

SHOP ANTIGUA

You're sure to find something to buy in Antigua, everything from artisan crafts to designer brands available in our boutiques, malls and markets...

Antigua's main duty-free shopping areas lie right on the waterfront in our capital city of St. John's. Historic Redcliffe Quay and modern Heritage Quay both house a unique collection of jewellers, craft shops and fashion boutiques. The quaint cafés, alfresco bars and couple of casinos all contribute to the vibrant mood that generally prevails, the area particularly lively when the cruise ships are in port.

The adjacent streets of the capital are well worth exploring too, the colourful Vendors' Mall perfect if you're looking for local hats, T-shirts and wraps to take home with you as souvenirs or gifts.

Head north of St. John's and you'll find three more shopping malls off the Friars Hill Road. Woods Mall has banks, a post office, a travel agency, and the Woods Pharmacy with expert pharmacists. The nearby Village Walk Mall features Harpers for stationary and office supplies, Café Bella for barista coffees and light snacks and a bank. Further along is the Royal Palm Place with outlets including a beauty salon and The Larder restaurant for great sushi. At Mandolin Place, the Clean Food 'N Jooce family run restaurant serves great food.

You can stock up your own larder in this area too. Our air-conditioned supermarkets include 1st Choice on the Anchorage Road close to Dickenson Bay, Cost Pro at the Woods Mall, The Gourmet Basket on Sir George H. Walter Highway, and the Island Provision complex on the airport road. Epicurean has grown into a super-supermarket just off Friars Hill Road, with another branch at Jolly Harbour on the west coast. All of these stores offer fresh produce, as well as excellent brands sourced from around the world.

The boutiques of English Harbour and Falmouth Harbour in the south of the island cater more to the cosmopolitan sailing crowd. As long as the yachts are in harbour, everything from swimwear and resort wear to local arts, crafts and jewellery can be found. Bailey's, Crab Hole Liquors, Covent Garden and The Cork & Basket are where to grocery shop in this area.

And last but not least are the duty-free shops of V.C. Bird International Airport. The perfumes, jewellery, books and musical memories are perfect for all those last-minute gifts.

REDCLIFFE QUAY

St. John's Waterfront

This quaint shopping enclave on the St. John's waterfront sells everything from local art and limited edition jewellery to couturière evening wear and freshly-made ice cream. The icing on the cake is the historical vibe – 18th century Redcliffe Quay was one of the main trading places in St. John's, and it seems fitting that it still is.

Most of today's businesses are housed in the old sugar and coffee warehouses, their vibrant wooden shutters set off by the crumbling bricks that came to Antigua as ballast in the sailing ships long ago.

And, of course, there are also some delightful bars and cafés waiting when you're finally ready for that slice of pizza, tasty Croque-monsieur or restorative glass of South African chardonnay.

To take advantage of the duty-free prices, please take your passport and travel documents with you.

GOLDSMITTY

Tel: (268) 462-4601

www.goldsmitty.com

Since 1981 Goldsmitty has offered unique jewellery in gold and silver. Owner and designer Hans Smit uses the finest gemstones collected on his trips to exotic locations around the world. Yet Hans realised that many longtime clients and first-time visitors also want authentic, indigenous mementos. Therefore for Goldsmitty's 30th Anniversary, Hans created 'Caribbean Corner'.

Each unique design is made with rare, local conch pearls, beautiful blue larimar or amber-containing insects, all from the nearby Dominican Republic. And then in 2011, Hans discovered our own 'piece of the rock' – 30 million-year-old petrified coral, officially trademarked as 'Antiguanite'.

The great variety of stones are cut and polished in various shapes before being set in gold and silver. You can even choose and polish your own stone. Goldsmitty is a Member of the U.S. Jewellers Board of Trade.

And there's even a little joint in St. John's that's famous for serving the best pizza in the Caribbean! The rum cocktails, local Wadadli beer, and new and old world wines are sure to enhance every meal.

Of course, there's nothing to stop you picking up a delicious treat on one of our street corners either. Local delicacies include jerk chicken, pepperpot stew and conch fritters, with tamarind balls and Johnny cakes for afters. AFTER DARK ANTIGUA

Antiguans know how to party, and the fun continues long after you leave our beaches. Many of our hotels offer live entertainment, and our bars, nightclubs and casinos stay open until the small hours. This is especially true during the winter months when visitors are celebrating their escape from the cold temperatures back home...

DICKENSON BAY AREA Where to socialise in the north of the island, particularly on Friday nights. Sips & Tips is for a fun vibe and live entertainment. The stylish Salt Plage is perfect for seaside sundowners and entertainment on the sand, while Ana's on the Beach is a chic waterfront venue offering mood music as the sun goes down. If you fancy hitting the dance floor later on, head for VYCE nightclub on Runaway Bay.

ST. JOHN'S AREA The Yard on St. Mary's Street is busy on 'Thirsty Thursdays', C&C Wine Bar in Redcliffe Quay always has South African wine chilling, while North Antigua on Old Parham Road is a popular sports bar. But for a distinctly Caribbean vibe and regular live entertainment, head west to BeachLimerz on Fort James Beach. You can also catch the latest movie releases at Caribbean Cinemas just outside town.

CASINOS St. John's two casinos also serve as entertainment hubs with live music. The Victorian-themed Boardwalk Casino lies on the harbourfront at Redcliffe Quay and offers slots and table games like blackjack, roulette, Caribbean stud, 3-card poker and Texas Hold'em. Or you can just stop by for cocktails and a delicious dinner. King's Casino is a Vegas-style gambling spot close to the Heritage Quay waterfront. It offers blackjack, roulette and poker, as well as over 250 slot machines. Plus, there's a sports bar, live sports betting and horse racing simulcasting.

JOLLY HARBOUR AREA This residential centre is where it all happens on the west coast, the social scene often illuminated by the lights from the yachts. Enjoy waterside cocktails at the Sea Dream Restaurant & Bar, or make for Sandra's Beach Shop, Bar and Grill right on the sands. And just down the coast, the award-winning cuisine of Sheer Rocks at the Cocobay Resort awaits.

ENGLISH AND FALMOUTH HARBOURS Packed with boats in the winter, this area is popular with yachties and residents alike. The Copper and Lumber Store in Nelson's Dockyard is the perfect place to enjoy a tot of rum, and its popular Friday night 'seafood festival'. Take a water taxi across the bay to the harbourside La Brasserie with its carefully curated French wines. Los Cabrones is more about tequilas and margaritas with its Mexican themed nights. Colibri's offers a buzzy cocktail scene with live music, whilst Abracadabra is a fashionable nightclub waiting to take you into the small hours. Falmouth's Scullduggery Café is much loved for its chocolate martinis, while nearby Cloggy's and South Point are sophisticated venues where the cocktails come with prime views of the yachts. Yet even these views are eclipsed by those from Shirley Heights almost 500 feet above sea level. Take a short drive through the National Park to the top of the hill and you'll come to Shirley Heights Lookout with its historic bar and spectacular vistas over English and Falmouth Harbours. The legendary Sunday afternoon party starts with a melodic steelband playing until sunset before a lively reggae band takes over. Make sure you experience this unique event for yourselves...

Hyacinth Hillhouse continues in the tradition begun by her grandmother and mother of making coal-pots and other items from the local clay found near Seaview Farm. Originally used to heat the evening meals over hot coals, the earthenware pots are now largely decorative, although many houses still have one in case the gas runs out! The pots are shaped by hand rather than on a wheel and only a handful of people still have the necessary skills. Your support for this dying art is much appreciated.

ANTIGUA SOUVENIRS

Looking for local goods to take home as souvenirs? From rum and coffee to books and beauty treatments, you'll be delighted what you can pick up here...

Let's start with everyone's favourite Caribbean tippie. Rum! Some of the world's very best are produced right here on the island by Antigua Distillery. English Harbour 5 Year and English Harbour 10 Year Reserve don't just make the perfect sundowners when you're on-island, but after a busy day back home too. They're also welcome gifts, the miniature collections easy to pack, as are the plastic bottles of Cavalier Gold and White. Kococaribe is also a true taste of the islands.

Our speciality coffees have a distinct flavour of the tropics too. Carib Bean Coffee Roasters have been producing delicious blends on a hilltop overlooking Falmouth Harbour for the past 20 years. Their 15 varieties range from 'Joy in the Morning' to 'Dark & Stormy', their beans primarily sourced from the Caribbean and South America.

Our local foodstuffs take full advantage of the natural treasures of the West Indies too. They include the hot sauces, pepper jellies and delicious dips of Mariel's Kitchen. Posh Pirate Honey is harvested from our hives on a seasonal basis, while Wadadli Coconut Oil produces a health and beauty staple that can be used to moisturise your skin and protect your hair.

For Caribbean literature, head for 'The Best of Books' on Lower St. Mary's Street in St. John's. This much-loved store boasts the widest variety of books in the Eastern Caribbean, including the recently republished and much sought-after History of Antigua by Brian Dyde, as well as two children's novels written by acclaimed local authors – Turtle Beach by Barbara Arrindell and To Be A Cheetah by Joanne C. Hillhouse.

We're crafty here too. At the entrance to Nelson's Dockyard, you'll find ladies selling t-shirts, as well as jewellery made from the seeds of our wild tamarind and mimosa trees. Vanessa Ravenello, the owner of Vanessa Designs, delights everyone with her homemade beach bags, table cloths, cushion covers and children's clothes.

And always make time for the Bay Gardens artisans market in Hodges Bay. This island-style village is a true showcase of the creative skills very much in evidence in Antigua, and you'll find everything from jewellery and wind chimes to soaps and haircare products. You can even buy a bottle of local gin to enjoy back home!

Goodbye from Antigua! We look forward to welcoming you back again soon!

USEFUL TO KNOW

GEOGRAPHY

Located in the heart of the Caribbean, Antigua is 108 sqm. in size and about 13 miles across. Barbuda is 62 sqm. and lies 27 miles to our north. Tiny and uninhabited Redonda lies 20 miles north-west. There are about 98,000 people in Antigua, 1,500 in Barbuda and only seagulls on Redonda. From Antigua you can see Guadeloupe, Montserrat, St. Kitts and Nevis.

CLIMATE

Temperatures range from an average low of 73°F (23°C) in winter to 85°F (30°C) in summer. The trade winds are fairly constant except September. The average rainfall is about 45 inches so there's constant care not to waste water. The rainy season is September to November, but the showers are usually short.

CLOTHING

Antigua still retains a semblance of formality and swimsuits are limited to beaches. There is a nude beach beyond Hawksbill but this is not generally frequented by residents! Casual clothes are the unwritten rule for dining and trips to town.

LANGUAGE

Although English is the only language ever adopted in the island, you may wonder what some of us are saying when we chat in the local lingo. Everybody sooner or later acquires a few idiomatic phrases such as "No big ting" or "Antigua me come from."

ELECTRICITY

Antigua has a current quirk. Most hotels operate on 110 volts (same as the US and Canada), but some have 220 volts like the UK, and homes may even have a bit of both. Check before plugging in appliances.

CURRENCY

Our currency is the Eastern Caribbean dollar (EC$) issued by the Eastern Caribbean Central Bank (ECCB) and pegged to the US$ at an official rate of EC$2.70 to US$1. The ECCB quotes daily rates for the Canadian $, the Euro, the £ Sterling and other currencies.

CALCULATING COSTS

Hotel rates are cheaper outside the 'season' from December to April. Some hotels offer special packages for honeymooners etc. Check with your travel agent or Antigua Hotels & Tourist Association, Newgate Street, St. John's, Tel: (268) 462-0374/3703/4928. There is 10% service charge (which saves the bother of tipping), as well as a 17% ABS Tax and Guest Levy Tax of US$3 per night for room rates below US$150 and US$5 per night above US$150.

POST OFFICES

The main Post Office lies at the foot of Long Street in St. John's. Open Monday to Friday: 8am to 1pm. Tel: (268) 562-1929. Post Offices are also located at the Woods Centre, Nelson's Dockyard, All Saints village and Codrington, Barbuda. Fedex – the agent in Antigua is Francis Trading located on Nevis Street, St. John's. Tel: (268) 462-3339.

INTERNET & WIFI

Free wifi is widely available in hotels, restaurants and bars, although you may need to request an access code. It is also available in the airport departure lounge. The locally-owned telecommunications company APUA, as well as international companies like Digicel and Flow, operate a 4G LTE network with 100% island-wide coverage. You can also purchase a local SIM card to work on an unlocked phone. Be sure to check your provider's roaming charges first.

EMERGENCIES

We hope you have a safe and enjoyable stay here, but help is at hand if you run into problems. Most hotels are serviced by a 24-hour 'Duty Doctor' and in an emergency the reception staff will contact them for you. Sir Lester Bird Medical Centre lies just off Queen Elizabeth Highway. Tel: (268) 484-2700 and there's also the Hanna Thomas Hospital in Barbuda. Tel: (268) 736-5094/5096. The Police Headquarters is on American Road Tel: (268) 462-0125 and there's also a station on Newgate Street in St John's. The emergency helpline is 911.

35 years of THE ANTIGUAN

Your Essential Guide to Antigua & Barbuda

We've been celebrating everything 'Antiguan' for 35 years. We tell you all you need to know about where to stay, dine, live, explore and shop in our twin-island nation. And now THE ANTIGUAN'S gone digital. So no more leaving your copy on the plane. And no more heavy sighs when the last one's been nabbed. Because now we're always with you. Totally inspirational. Easy to read. And easy to share with friends!
